

KU NMR Core Lab Training Application Form

Justin Douglas (justindouglas@ku.edu) – KU NMR Labs v1.2 9/12/17

General information

NMR lab Training is divided into two steps.

1. Download a copy of the file “Things You Should Know Before You Operate an NMR Spectrometer” from our website (<https://nmrlab.ku.edu/documents>). Also download our “Chemical Hygiene Plan”. Study these documents. You must pass an oral quiz before Sarah will train you. There are no exceptions.

2. Make an appointment for training with Sarah Neuenswander. Sarah will walk you through the procedure of how to acquire and process a 1D ^1H NMR spectrum. This session should take ~30 minutes.

1. Your Information:

Name:

E-mail:

Dep't.:

Phone:

Advisor:

Position: Post-Doc

Graduate

Undergraduate

REU

other

Username (7 characters or less – this will be assigned by Sarah):

Note: By submitting this form your advisor (and you, if applicable) agree a) to follow posted rules in the NMR lab and instructions by the NMR lab staff; b) to pay any charges associated with instrument time, consumables and personnel for data acquisition and analysis (current rates can be found at <https://nmrlab.ku.edu>); c) to abide by the MSG policy on Publications and Acknowledgements (http://msg.ku.edu/policies_publications); d) include a citation of any and all grant funding used to purchase instrumentation (updated list at <https://nmrlab.ku.edu/funding-source>)

FOR INTERNAL USE ONLY

Initial Training

Date:

Trainer:

Oral examination:

Spectrometer:

Username:

Password:

UID:

Processing stations:

Omnilock:

MailMan:

Follow-up training

Date

Trainer

Access to other spectrometers (name and date)